

International Society of Critical Health Psychology

7th Biennial Conference 2011

Hosted by the University of Adelaide

ADVANCING CRITICAL APPROACHES TO HEALTH AND HEALTH CARE

April 18-20th, 2011
Adelaide, South Australia

Image courtesy of the South Australia Tourism Commission

The 7th Biennial Conference of the International Society of Critical Health Psychology (ISCHP) will be held in Adelaide, South Australia, on Monday 18th - Wednesday 20th April, 2011. The conference provides an opportunity for health psychologists and scholars from related disciplines to explore ongoing and emerging issues in critical theory and practice in relation to health and health care. Attendance is therefore welcomed from scholars in any discipline with a critical orientation to the field of health. The conference also particularly welcomes and encourages students and emerging researchers.

Keynote speakers

Professor Raewyn Connell, University of Sydney

Associate Professor Pat Dudgeon, University of Western Australia

Associate Professor Rosemary Du Plessis, University of Canterbury

A series of workshops on Sunday 17th April will be announced soon!

Important dates

Submission of abstracts - closes Monday 22nd November, 2010

Early bird conference registration - closes Monday 31st January, 2011

More information

www.adelaide.edu.au/ischp/

ischp2011@adelaide.edu.au